

Cheap Nursing CEUs

Neonatal Intensive Care Unit: Environmental Stressors and Supports

1. Which of the following statements regarding the results of the study is most accurate?

- A. Women often noted lack of quality communication with the nursing staff as a minor stressor in the NICU.
  - B. Women often noted lack of quality communication with the nursing staff as a major stressor in the NICU.
  - C. Women and men often noted lack of quality communication with the nursing staff as a major stressor in the NICU.
  - D. Women and men often noted lack of quality communication with the physician staff as a major stressor in the NICU.
-

2. Which of the following statements regarding the results of the study is most accurate?

- A. Good bedside manner was noted as a stressor.
  - B. Poor bedside manner was noted as a stressor.
  - C. Poor bedside manner was noted as a stressor among women over the age of 25.
  - D. Poor bedside manner was noted as a stressor among women over the age of 35.
-

3. According to the study, communicating with other mothers in the NICU was a factor that reportedly increased the stresses of having an infant in the NICU.

- A. True
  - B. False
-

4. According to the study, which of the following statements is most accurate?

- A. "Social support has been identified as a stress factor for individuals, particularly in stressful situations such as parenting. "
  - B. "Social support has been identified as a protective factor for individuals, particularly in stressful situations such as parenting. "
  - C. "Social support has been identified as a non-protective factor for individuals, particularly in stressful situations such as parenting. "
  - D. A lack of social support has been identified as a protective factor for individuals, particularly in stressful situations such as parenting.
-

5. The clinical implications of the study include the need for regular evidence-based training for medical staff on awareness, communication, empathy and other behaviors that might improve bedside manner and promote inclusion of mothers in infant care.

- A. True
  - B. False
-

Copyright © 2025 Cheap Nursing CEUs

Visit us at <https://www.cheapnursingceus.com>